PSYCHIATRIC CARE OF THE MEDICALLY ILL:

A REVIEW OF PSYCHOSOMATIC MEDICINE

JUNE 4-6, 2004

From the renowned Psychiatric Consultation Service of the Massachusetts General Hospital and the authors of the MGH Handbook of General Hospital Psychiatry comes a comprehensive review of the field. Sharing 70 years of experience from the wards and intensive care units of MGH, our faculty of clinician-researchers will present 20 lectures that integrate state of the art clinical science with time-tested bedside savvy. This course is designed to update busy clinicians and to help focus those preparing for ABPN certification in Psychosomatic Medicine.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this program, the participant will have achieved the following:

- A basic competence in working with patients who have psychiatric manifestations of medical and surgical conditions and/or their treatment (in inpatient and ambulatory medical settings)
- Abilities in several areas, including examination skills and therapeutic interventions
- Skills, such as data gathering, interviewing, case formulation, and treatment interventions necessary for psychiatric consultation

In addition, this program will have prepared those studying for subspecialty certification in Psychosomatic Medicine.
